

Two levers (odds-ratio scale)

The scale the model is linear in: lines are straight and each interaction is exactly the difference in slope. Scale flattens the resource slope but not the distance slope; reasoning flattens both.

